

SNOW SHOVELING is getting to be a habit in the Escanaba area and this morning Herbert and John Myers, 506 1st Ave. S., assisted by Lois Cox, background, of 508 1st Ave. S., were busy clearing sidewalks.

GETTING TO WORK was no problem for Fred Sundstrom, 311 1st Ave. S., and his father, Lowell, 210 S. 5th St., as they jumped on a snowmobile and off they went.

BURIED AUTOMOBILES were a familiar sight in Escanaba this morning as Wednesday night's drifting snow and plows sealed cars in high drifts along many city streets. Major shoveling chores were in store for owners who either parked or abandoned their cars. (Daily Press Photos)

Milliken Is Sympathetic To Nonpublic School Aid

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's next governor, William Milliken, will be much more sympathetic to state aid for nonpublic schools than outgoing Gov. George Romney, Milliken's state of the state message makes clear.

But otherwise, the lieutenant governor's address today to a joint session of the legislature indicates his administration will not be radically different from that of the soon-to-resign governor.

To Balance Budget

Milliken's speech, an annual address but one usually delivered by the governor himself, compares easily with Romney's farwell message, delivered over television Monday night.

Like Romney, Milliken called for balanced state budgets, public school refinancing, public employe strike legislation, an attack on organized crime, aid for the state's urban areas, and enforcement of civil rights and human rights laws.

"It is my greatest hope," Milliken said, "that this administration will be known for its compassion, its idealism, its candor and its toughness in the pursuit of public ends."

But unlike Romney—who leaves late this month to become U.S. Secretary of Housing and urban Development — Milliken showed enthusiasm for legislative proposals to aid parochial and other private schools.

He warned lawmakers, however, that they will have to find the money to pay for any such program.

Loss Tragic

"It would be tragic," he said, "if circumstances should cause the private schools and colleges, religious-affiliated or otherwise, to deteriorate and disappear." He added there is such a danger.

"I tell you candidly," the lieutenant governor said, "that I view the plight of the nonpublic school with deep sympathy."

The remarks clearly were intended as a reply to Romney, who warned Monday night that significant aid to parochial schools would be too costly for taxpayers to bear and added: "I suggest we seriously consider whether it would not be more desirable to leave secular education to the state...."

Milliken's address to the legislature today dealt mainly in general terms. He pledged to send special messages to lawmakers later, dealing with pollution, education and perhaps other matters.

Salutes Rom

Milliken also saluted Romney who, he said, "has led us with such great distinction for these past six years and whose legacy of accomplishment here will soon be matched, I am confident, by a record of accomplishment in Washington."

He said the executive budget—described as jointly supervised by Romney and Milliken—would be a balanced one and would reflect "a wise and compassionate approach to government."

Again he warned the legislature: "If you should decide to increase state spending beyond

GOP To Seek Conservative Fiscal Stand

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans, who have warned of a possible shortage of state funds, sought to establish a conservative fiscal position Wednesday during the opening session of the 1969 Legislature.

While the Democratic-controlled House wrangled over a leadership fight, the GOP majority in the Senate passed a joint resolution forbidding the House from building a two-story addition to the State Capitol.

In addition, Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, introduced a resolution disapproving the State Officers Compensation Commission proposals for pay hikes.

The joint resolution would forbid the House from constructing the proposed quarter-million dollar addition to the Capitol with funds from its operating budget.

This means that the House must first pass an appropriations bill before construction can begin. The resolution also provides that the governor would be able to veto the proposal.

However, the resolution requires House approval before it becomes effective.

Lockwood's resolution was introduced by Sen. George Byrnes, R-Mich., who said it had a good chance of passage if it was reported out of committee.

The bill boosts salaries of legislators to $15,000 per year and $3,000 annual expenses. Currently, legislators receive an annual salary of $12,500, with expenses totaling $2,500.

The commission also urged additional expenses be approved for the governor and lieutenant governor.

Area Digs Out After Snowfall

AP Struck By Wire Service

NEW YORK (AP) — Members of the Wire Service Guild walked off their jobs today in the first strike of editorial employees in the history of The Associated Press.

The Guild called the strike in a dispute over wages and a form of the guild shop. The AP is continuing its basic news services domestically and abroad.

The walkout began at 8 a.m. and Guild pickets appeared before Associated Press headquarters at 50 Rockefeller Plaza.

The Wire Service Guild includes newsmen, photographers, clerical employees and others.

The Guild announced early Thursday that it would strike the AP.

The announcement was made by Malcolm Barr, Wire Service Guild strike strategy chairman.

Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press, said the AP will "continue its essential and basic news services—specifically, the general news wires, photos, financial and sports."

Main issues in the dispute were wages and a form of union shop demanded by the Guild, which represents 1,313 AP employees.

The union broke off talks Wednesday evening in a session with federal mediator George Byrnes and announced it was preparing for a strike.

The union has rejected AP's offer of a three-year contract providing for a $250 weekly top minimum for newsmen, photographers, and certain other employees, beginning Jan. 1, 1971.

The Guild also turned down a request by the AP, through mediator Byrnes, to submit the AP's last offer to the membership for a secret ballot. The AP cited reports from its bureaus about "considerable confusion" concerning the conduct of last week's strike authorization vote. Before the Guild announcement of the strike, Byrnes called for a meeting at 1 p.m. EST. Both sides agreed, though both said they had not changed their positions.

The Guild asked a $264 top minimum plus a variation of the Guild Shop which would require eight of every ten new employees to join the union.

Gallagher said, "The Associated Press firmly believes it has made the best offer possible."

The election was announced Wednesday by William Benton, publisher and chairman of the firm.

Humphrey recently accepted a professorship at the University of Minnesota and Macalester College.

Activities Canceled, Plow Crews Busy

By DAVE ANDREWS

Today was canceled.

There wasn't any Thursday, Jan. 9, 1969, along the western shore of Lake Michigan in the Upper Peninsula. It disappeared under a pile of snow.

The Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee County area today began the huge chore of digging out from the worst — to date — of a series of winter storms that have forced the City of Escanaba to declare a snow emergency, caused State and City Police to urge everyone remain off roads, streets and highways, and taxed city and county snow removal crews to the greatest extent since, perhaps, the winter of 1937-38.

All schools in the area were closed. Circuit Court was canceled. Many businesses were closed and practically all other group activity ground to a halt as efforts to clear snow drifts continued.

Dozens of cancellations were reported Wednesday night as the storm built drifts over automobiles, plugged roads and parking lots and even literally sealed residents in their homes as snow piled against doors.

Good For Skiing

About a foot of snow accumulated in the area since the storm began Wednesday morning.

State Police of the Gladstone Post this morning reported main roads passable, but snow covered and slippery. Side roads were blocked.

Any recommendations? The officer was asked.

"I'd recommend everyone go skiing," he replied.

Many people were using snowmobiles to travel this morning. Others walked. Merchants reported a continued high demand for "snow-throw" equipment.

White Pine Crash Kills 5

WHITE PINE (AP) — Five men were killed Wednesday in the Upper Peninsula in Michigan's worst traffic accident thus far in 1969.

The five, all employees of the White Pine Copper Co. had just gotten off the afternoon shift and were headed south on Michigan 64 when their car skidded on the icy roads and was struck by a pickup truck.

Police identified the victims as Paul Westerinen, 61, Elmer Maki, 48, Walter Hillier, 59, all of Bruce Crossing, Mich.; James Fleming, 35, and Clarence Fors, 36, both of Swen.

Westerinen was the driver of the car.

The driver of the truck, Edward Bari, 42, of Lake Linden, was taken to LaCroix Hospital in White Pine suffering from three broken ribs.

One of the victims, Fleming, was a father of five.

Pueblo Inquiry Delayed 2 Weeks

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Leaves have been scheduled for crew members of the USS Pueblo before a court of inquiry convenes to investigate their capture and behavior in prison, the Navy said today.

Although the leaves are tentative, a Navy spokesman said the inquiry probably will be delayed for two to three weeks.

The Navy has said that the court will convene soon after debriefing of crewmen by intelligence experts is completed. The last of the 82 freed crewmen to begin debriefing—Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, the skipper—started his interviews Monday.

The court of inquiry is not a trial. On the basis of facts brought out in the inquiry, the Navy will determine whether further proceedings, such as courts-martial or decorations for heroism are warranted.

Although the court of inquiry is generally open to the public, Navy officials said some matters concerning national security will not be made public.

The Navy said it delayed Bucher's debriefing because of his mental and physical fatigue. However, he and nine other crewmen received the Purple Heart Saturday in public ceremonies. They were wounded when the North Koreans captured the intelligence ship nearly a year ago.

Accused Killer Of Two FBI Men Surrenders

WASHINGTON (AP) — A man charged with slaying two FBI agents surrendered meekly in the attic of an apartment house Wednesday night, climaxing an intense house-to-house manhunt in the Capital's South East section.

The capture of Billie Austin Bryant, 29-year-old auto repairman and prison escapee, came less than seven hours after the agents who sought to question him about a bank robbery were found dead in the hallway of his estranged wife's home.

The slain agents were Anthony Palmisano, 26, and Edwin Woodruffe, 27, a Negro and the first of his race to die in the line of duty with the FBI.

The slayings, which touched off a search by hundreds of police dogs, and submarine gun-toting colleagues of the dead agents, followed by less than two hours the armed holdup of a suburban Maryland Savings and Loan company.

A teller had reported Bryant's name to police, saying she recognized him as a former customer.

Bryant, a Negro, sought since he escaped from the nearby Lorton Reformatory in Virginia last August, was arraigned before a U.S. commissioner on two counts of murder and held without bail until a hearing Jan. 23.

The agents were the 22nd and 23rd to be killed on duty in the history of the bureau. Only once before—in 1934—were two agents killed at the same time.

The bodies of the agents were found by a policeman lying one atop the other after a report was broadcast that a policeman had been shot.

Two helicopters hovered over the rundown section bordered

The attic where Bryant was found was only a few blocks from the scene of the slayings.

Washington Hails Apollo Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's capital has pulled out all the ceremonial stops to honor America's latest set of heroes—the Apollo 8 astronauts.

Following a morning ceremony at the White House to receive the Distinguished Space Medal from President Johnson, Frank Borman, James Lovell Jr., and William A. Anders had an address to a joint meeting of Congress scheduled.

Air Force Col. Borman, Navy Capt. Lovell and Air Force Lt. Col. Anders became the first men to fly around another planet or satellite Christmas Eve and Christmas Day when they orbited the moon 10 times as part of their perfect six-day trip into space.

The astronauts conclude the ceremonies tonight with a private reception and dinner at the Smithsonian Institution attended by top level government officials.

Family Along

The wives and children of the astronauts accompanied them to Washington Wednesday night from their homes near the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, Tex.

Since ending their lunar flight on Dec. 27, Borman, Lovell and Anders have been closeted with experts in Houston, recording all the intricate details of the mission—details intended to ease the way for other astronauts to land on the moon later this year.

The Astronaut's trip comes at a time when space agency sources were reporting in Houston, Tex., that Borman may be in line for an administrative job, which would probably mean he will be precluded from future space trips.

Accomplishments

A NASA official, while declining to deny the report, said "There is a distinct possibility

Today's Chuckle

The local vacuum-cleaner man says that "demonstration" has become such an ominous word that he's afraid to offer one.

that he (Borman) will assume increased responsibilities."

Borman was flight commander of Apollo 8 when it circled the moon 10 times in 20 hours, during which the astronauts:

—Made a thorough photographic and visual reconnaissance of the areas over which they flew.

—Mapped potential astronaut landing sites.

—Described the moon as a desolate, forboding place, but well worthy of future exploration. They said it looked like well-trampled gray beach sand.

—Recorded magnetic effects in the lunar surface that could have a distinct influence on man's attempt to land on the moon.

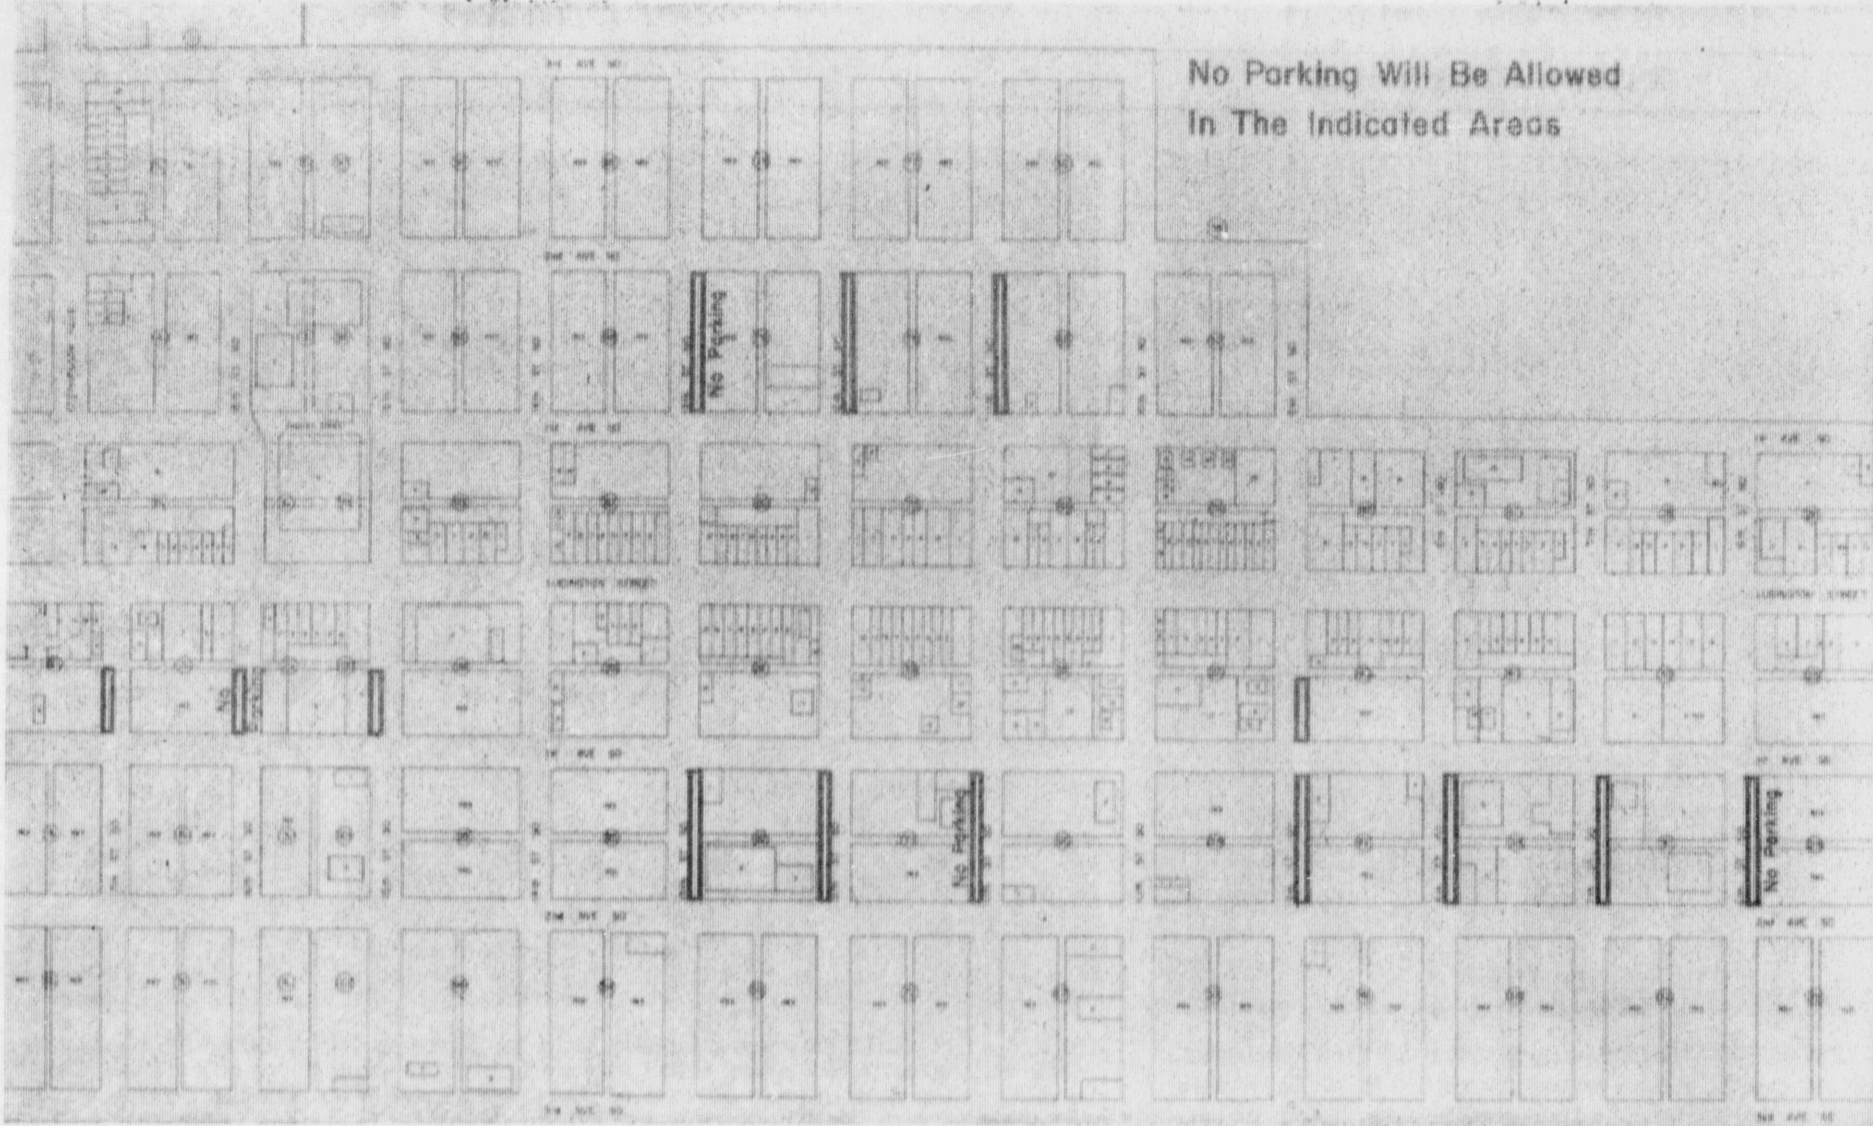

—Proved the soundness of the Apollo hardware and the ability of astronauts and ground crews to conduct complex deep space missions.

Other Events

—Increased the stature of the U.S. space effort around the world.

'State Of Emergency' Declared In City

PARKING RESTRICTIONS on certain streets in Escanaba were invoked today as part of the emergency declaration in Escanaba. The map shows the restrictions as follows: Restricted to the east side of S. 11th St. and S. 12th St. between 1st and 2nd Ave. S.; S. 15th St., S. 16th St., S. 17th St. between S. Ludington St. alley and 1st Ave. S.; Restricted to the west side of N. 11th St., N. 12th St., N. 13th St. between 1st Ave. and 2nd Ave. N.; S.

6th S., S. 7th St., S. 8th St., S. 13th St., 1st Ave. and 2nd Ave. S.; and S. 9th St., between Ludington St. alley and 2nd Ave. S. Angle parking will be replaced by parallel parking in the 100 blocks, north and south of Ludington in the parking meter zones. To alleviate the problems that may occur, we have, effective this date, rescinded all parking limitations on the public parking lots in the affected area.

One Side Only Parking On Some Streets

By CLINT DUNATHAN
The "state of emergency" tag was applied to the Escanaba community today by Police Chief Richard Frederick and Fire Chief Palmer Derouin as they invoked regulations to meet the crisis of snow-choked streets and alleys in the city.

The storm that dumped another foot of snow in the area was whipped into drifts by a strong south wind during the night and then was piled higher when winds shifted to the north with more snow flurries today.

"There is an emergency here, particularly in the movement of traffic in the downtown area," said Chief Frederick.

"The emergency order that is issued becomes effective today and will continue for 60 days, perhaps longer if necessary. Our primary concern is public safety and the need to get fire equipment and emergency vehicles moving without delays."

One Side Only
"Escanaba's street crews are doing a tremendous job, with the men doing everything humanly possible to keep the streets cleared," the chief added.

The fire and police chiefs jointly issued an "emergency declaration" under authority in Section 194 of Ordinance 304, citing that a state of emergency exists "relative to parking regulations and of the control of traffic."

During the emergency parking is restricted to the east side of S. 11th and S. 12th Sts. between 1st and 2nd Aves. S.; and on the east side of S. 15th St. S. 16th St. and S. 17th St. between Ludington St. alley and 1st Ave. S.

Parking is restricted to the west side of the following streets:

N. 11th, N. 12th and N. 13th Sts. between 1st Ave. and 2nd Ave. N.; S. 6th, S. 7th, S. 8th, and S. 13th Sts. between 1st Ave. and 2nd Ave. S.; and on S. 9th St. between the Ludington St. alley and 2nd Ave. S.

Parking Lots
Angle parking will be replaced by parallel parking in the 100 blocks north and south of Ludington St. in the metered parking zones.

There is no longer a limit on parking time in the off-street downtown parking lots.

"To alleviate the problems that may occur, we have, effective this date, rescinded all parking limitations on the public parking lots in the affected area."

The cooperation of motorists and the public in the city effort to promote public safety was requested by city officials.

There were 16 motor vehicle accidents in the city the past 24 hours, including one in which an 11-year-old boy, Robert Meiers of 420 S. 12th St., escaped injury when he stepped into the path of a car at 2nd Ave. S. and 10th St. at noon Wednesday.

The car was driven by David J. Pinonek of 2000 S. 21st St. The boy stepped from behind a parked car, police reported.

After another mishap Ernest D. Vallier of 112 S. 5th St. received a traffic court summons from police for improper backing and leaving the scene of a property damage accident.

NARROWED STREETS create extreme hazards in Escanaba because of the snowbanks, and this scene on S. 16th St. between Ludington and 1st Ave. S. indicates the problem of moving traffic in an orderly manner. One of the primary concerns is the need to have streets open for fire trucks and other emergency vehicles. (Daily Press Photo)

Flu Stops Copter From Getting Men

HANCOCK (AP) — Eight Coast Guardsmen assigned to remote Lake Superior islands to provide navigational assistance to ships had to rely on the cutter Woodrush for safe removal after the crew of a helicopter was grounded by the flu.

The men were assigned to Passage and Manitou Islands and had been aboard since April when the 1968 shipping season opened on Lake Superior.

A helicopter originally assigned to remove them was grounded at Hancock-Calumet Airport when its crew was immobilized by the flu. The Woodrush left Duluth, Minn., Wednesday.

Pick Sirhan's Jury Monday

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jury selection apparently will not start until Monday in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan trial on charges of murdering Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Defense motions took up most of Wednesday, as they did Tuesday's opening session, and defense counsel prepared more for submission today.

However, Grant B. Cooper, one of three defense attorneys, said the defense and prosecution had agreed—after a closed session in the chamber of Judge Herbert V. Walker—to begin questioning prospective jurors no later than Monday.

The trial had its first witness Wednesday—an expert on juries. William A. Goodwin, the Los Angeles County jury commissioner, testified on how prospective jurors are selected.

Sirhan, 24, a Jordanian who came to this country with his family as a boy, listened attentively. The second session lasted less than an hour.

Cooper argued that the list of prospective jurors should be set aside on the grounds of not comprising "a true cross section of the community."

Defense attorneys raised the possibility that motions for a mistrial or change of venue may be made. Co-counsel Russell B. Parsons told newsmen that the defense would be prepared to present evidence in support of a motion regarding "the saturation of publicity in this area." He said the defense is concerned about the amount and character of news stories in local news media.

Cold Follows Winter Storm

By The Associated Press
A winter storm lashed into the northeast today and scattered snow and freezing rain from Wisconsin to the Middle Atlantic states.

Bitter arctic cold settled in behind the storm and drove the mercury down to zero or below from Montana into Minnesota.

Blizzard, heavy snow or travelers warnings were in effect for parts of 14 states from Iowa and Eastern North Dakota to the Middle Atlantic region.

Four to 6 inches of snow fell into Wisconsin through Wednesday. Five inches hit portions of lower Michigan. Freezing rain slicked highways south of the snow belt from Indiana into Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Cold wave warnings were issued from the Dakotas southward to Kansas and east into the middle Mississippi Valley. Thermometers registered 18 below zero at Williston, N.D., and Glasgow, Mont., shortly after midnight.

The new cold snap was expected to end a brief spell of record mildness in the South-Central States. Portions of Texas warmed into the upper 80s Wednesday. Dallas basked in 88-degree warmth, only to cool down to 41 early today. The mercury hit 90 at San Angelo, Tex., Wednesday and soared to 81 at Little Rock, Ark.

Mich. Con Sponsors Open House And Cooking School

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS CO. will formally open its "Blue Flame" hospitality center (above) to area residents next week. The utility will hold a cooking school on Tuesday, Jan. 14, followed by an open house Wednesday and Thursday. The office is located at 1628 Ludington St., Escanaba. The room is available to organized groups for meetings and special events. Visitors in Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.'s cooking school and open house next week at its newly remodeled Escanaba office will have an opportunity to inspect the latest innovations in gas appliances demonstrated in a demonstration kitchen.

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. will hold a cooking school and a two-day open house to unveil its spacious new hospitality and home demonstration center at its Escanaba area office Jan. 14, 15 and 16.

Orval T. Morrison, area manager of the utility, said three sessions of the cooking school will be held at 10 a. m., 2 p. m. and 8 p. m. on Tuesday, Jan. 14, at the company office, 1628 Ludington St. He invited all homemakers and "anyone else interested in the fine art of cooking, including men", to attend one of the demonstrations.

Everyone throughout the central Upper Peninsula is invited to the open house which will be held from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m. next Wednesday and Thursday.

A variety of awards will be presented to guests during the three days. Morrison said a gas light, towel sets and sets of place mats, plus all the food prepared, will be given away at each of the cooking school sessions. Everyone attending will receive one of the company's special Christmas cook books, which feature recipes perfected in Michigan Consolidated's test kitchens.

The open house awards will include a new gas range, an outdoor gas fired grill and a gas light.

The cooking school will be conducted by Miss Nancy Simon, home service director for the utility in northern Michigan, and her assistant, Mrs. Diana Curtiss, both of Mt. Pleasant.

The open house will feature tours of newly remodeled offices as well as coffee and refreshments served in the "Blue Flame" hospitality center.

The handsomely appointed room is 60 feet long and 30 feet wide, and seats up to 150 people theatre-style for meetings and demonstrations. A complete gas kitchen with both built-in and free-standing ranges provides an attractive setting for cooking demonstrations. A movable work table, with overhead mirror, allows the audience to see every detail of food preparation.

The room is also available to the public for special meetings and events. Morrison said he was particularly proud to provide this lovely meeting place for residents of the area. "This is the first hospitality and home demonstration center in the Upper Peninsula and we are sure church groups, clubs and civic organizations will find it a most pleasant place to hold many of their special events and meetings."

The new room, immediately adjacent to the utility's office, was formerly occupied by the Treasure Shop. Architect for the remodeling was Norman Arntzen of Escanaba, and general contractor was Olsen and Flath of Escanaba.

The Escanaba office is the headquarters for the entire service area which extends from Wallace to Stephenson, Gladstone, Rapid River, Munising and Gwinn. The company began operations here three years ago when it purchased the old municipal gas system and now serves nearly 5,700 customers.

End To Pumping

DETROIT (AP) — Brake-pumping on slick roads may be a thing of the past if a new Borg-Warner system introduced here Wednesday is adopted. Borg-Warner claims its new system automatically pumps rear brakes several times a second when it senses the wheels are about to lock.

President Andrew Johnson on the presidential reconstruction tour of 1866, used the expression, "We are swinging around the circle."

Property Tax Credit Coming

Michigan property owners will be entitled to a credit on their property taxes averaging more than $32.50 when they file their state income tax returns this year, Sen. Thomas F. Schweigert (R-Petoskey) said today.

"When the legislature adopted the state income tax two years ago, it promised a reduction in property taxes and provided for such a reduction in the law," Sen. Schweigert said.

"Because the income tax was not in effect the full 12 months in 1967, the property tax reduction did not take effect until the 1968 return.

"However, property owners making out their return this year may deduct a sliding scale percentage of their property tax from their state income tax.

"Under the schedule provided by the legislature, the reduction ranges from 20 per cent of taxes paid up to $100 on property to four per cent on property taxes paid in excess of $10,000.

"The average Michigan taxpayer will be included in the category of those paying more than $200 in property taxes but not more than $10,000. People in this bracket will be entitled to a basic credit of $32.50 plus five per cent of the excess over $200.

"So, while this deduction will not appear on their property tax statement, property owners will receive the deduction in the form of a credit on their state income tax."

Big C&NW Program:

Work At Escanaba Costs $16 Million

A 1969 capital improvement program of almost $72,000,000, by far the largest in the history of the Chicago and North Western Railway Co., has been announced by Larry S. Provo, president of the railroad. The railway company is a subsidiary of Northwest Industries, Inc.

Provo said the capital expenditures will exceed by more than 16 per cent those made in 1966, the previous record year for improvement expenditures, and will be almost double those anticipated for 1968.

Included in the 1969 capital improvement program are funds for the completion this Spring of the road's new $16 million highly mechanized ore storage and transfer terminal at Escanaba, on which construction started in mid-1968.

Complete By Spring

The storage facility, permitting year round operations of trains between ore pellet producing plants and the Escanaba terminal, will be in service within the next few days, said Provo.

All facilities at the terminal, including a new 1,900 foot low-level dock equipped with a traveling shiploader, will be ready to serve ore boats with the opening of the upper Great Lakes navigation season in April.

Another facility started in 1968 and scheduled for completion in 1969 is North Western's new $3,800,000 coach service center on Chicago's near west side.

More than $16,844,000 is planned for capital improvements to roadway and other fixed property. In addition, approximately $43 million is budgeted for maintenance of way expenditures which will be chargeable to expense.

41 New Locomotives

"Our 1969 program is designed to strengthen substantially the railroad's ability to meet the changing and increasingly more specialized service and equipment needs of our customers," said Provo. "This is reflected in our program for acquisition of new equipment at a cost of more than $54 million, as well as in our expenditures for improvements to roadway, communications, buildings and other railroad property, including completion of several major projects started in 1968."

The program of equipment acquisitions includes purchase of more than 2,500 new freight cars of various types and 41 new locomotives.

The 41 new locomotives, all heavy-duty 3,600 horsepower diesel electric units are being acquired to increase the railroad's ability to expedite freight schedules and assure on-time train operations. They are being built by Electro Motive division of General Motors for delivery within the next eight weeks.

500 Freight Cars

Freight car purchases include an order for 3,000 new deluxe box cars to be constructed at a cost of $30,255,000. The 50-foot all-steel cars equipped with cushion underframes and lading anchors for cargo protection and 10-foot doors to facilitate mechanized loading and unloading are designed for heavy-duty use on high grade commodities and manufactured items.

More than 500 other new freight cars to be acquired in varying quantities are also designed to meet specialized shipper needs. They include 107 hopper cars of 100-ton capacity; 100 fifty-foot box cars for bagged salt, sugar, auto parts and other manufactured articles; 65 insulated box cars for canned goods and wax products; 35 hi-cube 86-foot box cars for auto parts; 50 bulkhead flat cars for hauling of wallboard; 50 covered flat cars for coil steel shipments; 55 covered hoppers for cement and 14 covered hoppers for flour shipments; 18 mechanical refrigerator cars for meat and frozen food products and 18 sixty-one foot cars for chemicals, auto parts and fibreboard.

All cars will be equipped with roller bearings. In addition, the railroad is purchasing more than 70 multi-level racks for the hauling of new automobiles.

Great Governor

Governor George Romney's departure for Washington to become Secretary of Housing and Urban Development creates occasion to thank him for his great services to Michigan.

He has given the state six years of good performance in the governor's office and an influence that went far beyond Lansing. He was successful, for instance, in revitalizing the Republican party in Michigan, which was in such low estate when he was first elected governor that it was clearly a victory for him personally and not for the Grand Old Party.

It is paradoxical that George Romney should have been so successful in politics because he came to it as a last resort to effect civic reform. After an amazing success as an industrialist in reviving American Motors Corp. with the compact automobile, he was impelled by his good citizen's conscience into public affairs.

He served as head of a citizens effort to aid the Detroit public schools, which lacked adequate community support, and the effort was successful. It convinced Romney that a "third force," an organized citizenry working outside the partisan limits of the major political parties, could be effective in improving self-government in Michigan.

He organized Citizens For Michigan and invited Democrats, Republicans, labor, management, educators and all other interested persons to join up on a citizen basis. The Labor-Democrat coalition in Michigan was leary of Citizens for Michigan, but Leonard Woodcock of the Auto Workers and others signed up and helped it.

Citizens for Michigan did some good. It tended to nudge the Democrats and the Republicans a bit with a "We're watching you" activity, but it was never able to establish a large popular base of membership. It was a good idea that didn't really work very well. It cast a bigger shadow than its actual substance.

Critics said that Romney created it as a stepping stone to the governorship, but he didn't. What it really did was convince George Romney that if he wanted to influence Michigan politics he had to become a Michigan politician; that third force weren't potent at the polls or in the Legislature.

He served in the Constitutional Convention. He was elected governor. As in the case of Citizens for Michigan, the voters seemed more impressed by the leadership qualities of the man who had saved American Motors than in the nominee of the Republican party, which hadn't had a member in the Statehouse at Lansing for 14 years.

There was talk that Romney "wasn't a good politician," that he carried into politics too much of the view of the industrialist, but the Romney record shows that he was a formidable politician. He was not a politician only in the sense that he was impatient.

His own party bucked his income tax plan and the Democrats, who had originated it, ducked too, but he eventually prevailed in this major victory for good sense and good government. He called for greatly expanded spending on education, but opposed Democratic "give 'em everything" largesse.

He was a conservative in the tradition of his party, but more because of personal conviction and the Lansing situation than because of party affiliation. The Democrats in Michigan are dominated by labor, particularly the United Auto Workers, and they're for taxing and spending on big welfare programs. They are the minority party in Michigan and they represent the big city, big government trends.

Romney is much more progressive than the right wing of Michigan Republicans but he insists on fiscal integrity, on paying the bills for big government. When the Legislature voted Medicaid as an extension of Medicare, but didn't vote nearly enough money for the program, he put part of the benefits on the shelf until the money is in sight.

This sort of honesty made a hero of Romney in Michigan, and properly. The Democrats helped elect him and helped even more to keep him in office. He blunted the conservatism of the Republicans and the progressive urges of the Democrats.

He gave Michigan state government that is, comparatively, almost immaculate. Even before him Michigan had a state government of high quality, so recognized nationally. With him it's probably topped only by New York and California.

Romney gave up opportunity for fortune making in the automobile business to serve the public in the trauma of politics because of a personal compulsion of conscience to help people. His performance has been so impressive that his opponents have been reduced to criticism of his "piety." It reminds us of Lincoln's reaction to the critics who said General Grant drank too much. Lincoln suggested that they learn what brand of whisky he drank and that he'd get it for all his generals. Romney's piety could be prescribed anywhere.

He goes to Washington as a chief hope of our federal government to cope with the great problems of our troubled cities. He goes with Michigan's best wishes and with its confidence that he will serve well. We thank him for his sacrifices for Michigan and for six years of great leadership.

1968 Vintage Year In Looney Larceny

By MEADER G. PATTINGTON

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Well, 1968 produced no kitchen sinks, but it did hit the next closest thing. In Greensboro, N. C., a bathtub fell off a truck and before the trucker could pick it up three men drove off with it. And in Laramie, Wyo., a girl told police that someone stole the bathtub from her apartment.

Numbers were no obstacle to thieves in 1968, for in Manila 13,600 feet of telephone wire were taken and in Denmark another thief stole a length of power line leaving most of a town in darkness. Burglars stole a roof in Kemp, Tex. A large metal building was stolen in Tulsa, Okla. And a road grader, 35 feet long and weighing tons, was stolen from a nursery near Camden, N. Y.

Again numbers mean little, for an enterprising marauder stole 20,000 worms from a bait dealer in Albuquerque, N. M. Another prowler stole 46 canaries from a woman in San Antonio, Tex. For variety, a burglar took two small dogs, four baby alligators and several parakeets from a pet store in St. Louis, Mo.

The longest theft of 1968 was the stealing of 26 miles of skins used in stuffing sausages from a meat plant in Cambridge, England.

A rancher in Glendale, Ariz., found that during the night thieves had cut his hay field, used his baler to bundle the hay and carted it off. And in Calcutta, India, thieves over a period of time carried off more than 130,000 tons of standing rice; 250,000 acres were involved and a mob of 500 took part in the giant theft.

Animals really made the news. Dozens of eggs stolen from doorsteps in Leeds, England, were finally traced to a raw-egg-loving dog. And in Knoxville, Tenn., a purse-snatching dog was caught by a humane officer. A family's pet dog stole a bank bag containing $3,500 and was caught dragging the money bag around the back yard. And perhaps a large, hungry dog was the reason for a theft in Montgomery, Ala., where 15 pounds of ribs, 25 pounds of neckbones, 19 pounds of bologna, three hams, 10 pounds of franks, and a beef roast disappeared. A crook in Detroit left so rapidly that his dog was picked up by police and led them to his master's home. And a housebreaker's dog jumped up on a couch where the owner of a Vancouver, Wash., home was sleeping and woke her up licking her face. Screams drove off the disappointed thief.

Robbers had no respect for the law in 1968. Four court gavelers were taken in Kelo, Wash., so that only one judge now has a means of bringing order. The court wall clock was stolen in Laramie, Wyo. One burglar fled a Ventura, Calif., jail with $925 taken from the jail safe.

A dozen burglar alarms were taken from a store in Butte, Mont. A station wagon owner in Seattle installed a burglar alarm in his wagon, thieves broke in and along with $1,500 worth of various items took, you guessed it, the burglar alarm. But the greatest insult to injury addition was in Syracuse, N. Y. A car was stolen as the owner was loading it. The thief ran over the owner's foot as he drove off. There were mean thieves in 1968, too. A man sitting in a wheelchair was robbed of $229 in Detroit. A Sheerness, England, man had his left arm (artificial) stolen during a robbery. Two break-ins at a church in Richmond, Va., must have furnished enough equipment to start a new church for the robbers who took 50 volumes of a prayer book, 40 Bibles, an engraved communion setting, several alms basins, another prayer book, the chancel cross and a vacuum cleaner.

Police were smart in 1968. A robbery suspect wearing a miniskirt in Dallas was trapped when his knobby knees and awkward gait tipped off the police. Police captured store robbers in Spokane, Wash., because one was on crutches and their get-away attempt was still further slowed down when the two drove down a dead-end street. In Toronto, two hoods had their stickup foiled when one of them tried to vault over a counter, caught his foot and took a nasty fall. Another thief tried to rob a Los Angeles bank just two hours after another thief had made off with $411. FBI agents investigating the first robbery collected the would-be cleanup man. A man in St. Louis was robbed of $312. As he drove toward a police station, two other thugs again held him up. When told of the earlier stickup, they called the driver names and disappeared. Another burglar broke through a roof of a store in Hartshorne, Okla., opened a door and found himself right in the middle of a town meeting.

After three burglaries in six months a disgusted home owner rigged up a shotgun booby trap to a closet door. Forgetting the trap one night, he opened the door and wound up in the hospital.

Cars were much in the 1968 news. Mexico City authorities say that 10,000 cars valued at $12 million are stolen annually in Mexico. Only about 3,000 are ever recovered, most of them stripped.

A cab driver in Hamilton, Bermuda, really was a heavy sleepers. Sleeping in the city hall parking lot, he was robbed of his wallet, his watch and his shirt. Another heavy-sleeper, a Cincinnati woman, awoke to find that her $239 wig had been stolen from her head.

Told to take a test drive, a prospective buyer drove off in a car from a used car lot in Troy, N. Y., and apparently liked his bargain so well that he never brought it back. Monday really is blue for a New York City man. One Monday, a registration certificate was stolen from his car's glove compartment; exactly one week later, the car battery was taken, and the following Monday the rest of the car was stolen.

Some burglars were hungry. A Baltimore burglar climbed up to a second-floor porch, broke through four nailed-shut doors and stole a dozen hamburgers—after grilling them first. Another thief, who broke into a diner in York, Neb., fried and ate a cheeseburger and potatoes before escaping. A Commerce City, Colo., burglar was caught in a pizza parlor with his hands in the dough. Burglars of a Minneapolis meat market carried off $30 in cash, $500 worth of meat, and two cleavers for cutting up same.

Another Minneapolis man, in answer to a thug's demand for his wallet, threw the holdup artist a bag. The thug fled. The bag contained one dozen doughnuts.

Even in larceny, however, there's room for the thoughtful touch. Two bandits in North Miami Beach, Fla., tied up a couple, robbed their home of about $10,000 worth of jewels and cash, then told them, "Don't worry, we'll call the police." Officers arrived 10 minutes later and freed the couple.

A burglar broke into a county estate in Edmund, Okla., left a note telling the owner he wouldn't miss anything since he was rich and the burglar was poor. He assured the owner that he need not worry, since he would never return again, and concluded with, "God bless you and thank you."

The note, however, was unsigned.

Today's column will discuss the correct answer to yesterday's "Card Sense" bidding question. It involves the "Grand Slam Force."

Ely Culbertson invented this bid around 1935 and abandoned it because the bidders of that day weren't ready for it. Today it is in general expert use throughout the world. Specifically it is a five no-trump bid designed to ask partner how good his trumps are.

North merely bids two clubs in response to his partner's spade opening because he wants as much room as possible to maneuver. He decides to jump to three spades as his second bid and is delighted when South rebids to four hearts. This announces good hearts and a satisfactory opening call so North is interested in six or seven. A Blackwood routine will tell him that his partner holds the ace and king of hearts and king of spades but it won't tell how good South's spades are.

The five no-trump grand slam force gets him this information.

There are many ways of responding to this convention but the most approved method is that the more you bid, the better your trumps. South has opened one spade and bid and rebid hearts so that North is entitled to assume he has five spades and at least one of the three top honors. Six clubs would show this one honor and nothing more, six diamonds shows a top honor plus something extra. It might be a sixth trump but in this case it is the jack. With slightly better trumps South would respond six hearts, with king-queen sixth or king-queen-jack fifth he would bid six spades while with anything better, he would jump right to seven spades.

North knows that the queen of spades is missing and bids six no-trump just to guard against a very bad spade break.

Ann Landers Girls, Position Is Everything In Life

Dear Ann Landers: A good friend of mine was a member of a panel (three men and three women) which presented an interesting program at a church meeting the other evening. Dolores is a real brain but she wears her dresses too tight and too short.

When the curtains were drawn, I wanted to crawl under my seat. Dolores was seated right in the middle of the stage with her legs in a most awkward and unattractive position. Everybody could see past next Tuesday. No one paid any attention to what she was saying. They were so busy looking.

I tried to catch Dolores' eye, but we were sitting too far back. I even considered sending a note up but decided it would be too conspicuous.

The next day when I told Dolores, she was furious. She said others had mentioned it also—"when it was too late"—and added, "If you were a real friend you'd have gotten word to me at once." Ann, I don't see how I could have walked on the stage and told her to pull her dress down. Do you?

Please say something in your column about women who don't sit properly, especially when they are appearing in public. Thank you.—DOTHAN, ALABAMA

Dear Dothan: Now that the skirts are shorter, ALL women, whether they are on a stage or not, should be circumspect about the way they sit. Legs should be crossed at the ankle, not the knee, or both feet should be flat on the floor, side by side and the knees should be together. (Remember, Girls, position is everything in life.)

Dear Ann Landers: My wife's brother moved in with us when his mother passed away. (They used to share an apartment.) The freeloading bum is 41 years old and the agreement was that he would stay with us until he found a roommate. My wife promised me the limit would be three months. This week it will be 19 months that the loafer has parked his feet under our table. I am sick of looking at him. He borrows my ties, uses my razor blades, monopolizes the TV and hogs the telephone.

We have been married five years and have no children. My wife says we can't afford a baby. (But we can afford to feed this fat clown.)

I am slowly falling out of love with my wife and am thinking seriously of a separation. Do you feel I am justified? A yes or a no will do.—BELLY FULL

Dear B.F.: Yes. But first I'd try throwing the bum out.

Confidential to Should I Mail It?: No. You'd be sorry tomorrow. Just remember that every time you throw a little mud you lose a little ground. One day the facts will come out and you'll be happy you kept quiet.

Spectacular Ski Jump Planned For Ironwood

IRONWOOD (AP)—The most spectacular ski jump in the Western Hemisphere and possibly the world is being planned just outside this Upper Peninsula city on the Wisconsin border off Lake Superior.

Commitments guaranteeing the $1,032,000 it will take to build the so-called ski flying hill on Copper Peak, nine miles northeast of Ironwood is reported by the sponsor.

Scaffolding for the jump will tower 245 feet, about the height of a 25-story building, above the top of Copper Peak. It is estimated it will permit leaps of 540 feet, compared with a world record of 505 feet set in Vikersund, Norway.

Observation Platform
By comparison, the Pine Mountain jump at Iron Mountain is 160 feet tall and the record jump of 337 feet there is only one foot short of the North American record held by Westby, Wis.

Promoter of the project is a civic, nonprofit organization known as Gogebic Range Ski Corp., of which Sam Davey, a motel operator and former jumper, is president.

Earl Minkin, a plumbing contractor and former president of both the Central and U.S. Ski associations, is vice president, and William L. Johnson, owner of radio station WJMS, is project coordinator and wheelhorse.

An elevator will extend upward 176 feet in the scaffolding. A clubhouse, a chair lift and an observation platform will be adjuncts.

Johnson got the project rolling in 1962, when iron mines were closing along the Gogebic Range and unemployment was running about 20 per cent in the area, which since has staged a comeback through recreation and manufacturing development.

Need Capital
The Area Redevelopment Administration approved a $150-

000 grant and a $250,000 loan, which Johnson says still is earmarked. Later the Economic Development Administration approved a $366,000 grant and the Great Lakes Regional Commission a $266,000 grant.

With Johnson spearheading the drive, the Ironwood area raised $55,000 locally to get the project going and engineering plans drafted. Now, Johnson says local interests must raise another $50,000 for working capital and that a campaign to gather it will begin around April 1.

The Gogebic Range Ski Corp. has acquired approximately half the 700 acres involved in the project from the Keweenaw Land Co., of Boston, and has reached lease agreement with U.S. Steel Corp. for the remainder.

Open 1970

Johnson forecasts there will be jumping from the hill by February, 1970. He expects construction to get under way in the spring.

Originally the project was to include a 120-meter flying hill and conventional 90-meter jump, but the Central and U.S. Ski associations raised objections that a 90-meter jump would require too much of a cutback to the takeoff point and jeopardize safety.

So, as finally drafted the flying hill will contain only the 120-meter jump.

Johnson says invitational meets, involving skiers from Canada, Japan, the United States and Scandinavia, are planned between regularly sanctioned international ski meets to be held every other year.

He forecasts the project will create 20 year-around jobs and 70 for the peak seasons, with at least 100 employed on construction and 200 permanent jobs created in restaurants, hotels, motels and other establishments by business the flying hill will generate.

Kerala's Christians Set To Counter Reds

TRIVANDRUM, Kerala (AP)—Kerala's Christians are preparing for a confrontation with the Communist-led government of this lazily tropical state in India. The issue is a Communist threat to the continued existence of Christian and other private universities.

The 4 million Kerala Christians are one-fifth of the state's population. They are mostly Catholic, many owing allegiance to several ancient Middle Eastern rites and claiming conversion at the hands of the apostle Thomas.

A tiny, sprightly bearded man is the spiritual leader of one of Kerala's smallest Catholic groups, the 150,000-member West Syrian community. His Grace Mar Benedict Gregorios, the Kerala-born archbishop of Trivandrum, is also the Christians' most effective anti-Communist cleric.

Move Against Schools
In 1959 another Communist government tried, among other things, to move against the denominational schools.

"We got together and the government was thrown out," says the 52-year-old prelate, neatly condensing the history of the "liberation struggle" the church and the opposition political parties waged then—and in which the archbishop played a not inconsiderable role.

The issue today centers on a bill in the Kerala legislature that would permit the government to take over any university that it deemed "mismanaged."

"This time it will not be as easy as last time," said the archbishop. "The Communists can surely go through the physical process of passing the bill."

Not Stand In Court
"But we will surely oppose them if they try to implement it."

The legislative move against the denominational schools is, "Communists here admit, an attempt to secure the political allegiance of often underpaid teachers. One top Communist privately confesses that it would be risky indeed to try to take over any private institutions."

"If the conservative elements here combine, that can be very difficult for us," he noted.

"We are confident in any case," said the archbishop, "that the bill will not stand in the courts. The constitution of India permits minorities the right to 'establish and administer' schools. We will go straight to the Supreme Court." But the wheels of the law, especially in India, grind slowly—and as they grind the archbishop is prepared for another struggle.

Charge 3 With Highway Killing

OTTAWA (AP)—Three men in their 20s were charged with noncapital murder Wednesday in the apparently motiveless slayings last Friday night of two motorists on an Ontario highway. Police said their investigation is closed.

"We're not looking for anyone else," said Chief Inspector J.S. McBride of the provincial criminal investigation branch. Charged here were Donald J. Phillion, 29, of Cobalt, Ont., and David Breault, 23, of Ottawa.

David E. Dwyer, 23, of no known address was arraigned in Windsor, Ont., where he had been under arrest since last Sunday on several charges including armed robbery and possession of a sawed-off rifle.

All three will get a preliminary court hearing next Monday.

They are charged each with two counts of non-capital murder in the killing of Ottawa garage owner Gerald MacDonald, 31, and Kenneth Vallee, 42, of St. Clair Shores, a suburb of Detroit, Mich.

Non-capital murder carries a life sentence but persons convicted can be paroled after 10 years.

MacDonald and Vallee were shot to death while enroute in separate cars from Ottawa to Almonte, about 25 miles from Ottawa, to visit relatives. Their wives were with them.

Apollo 9 Shot Set For Feb. 28

WASHINGTON (AP)—The space agency has set Feb. 28 as the date for the next major step toward its goal of landing an American on the moon this summer.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration Tuesday officially announced 11 a.m. EST the last day of February as the "go" time for Apollo 9, a 10-day earth orbital mission to test the complete three-part spacecraft designed for the moon mission.

If all goes well on Apollo 9, in the spring Apollo 10 will orbit the moon at low altitude. Then, in mid-summer, two Apollo 11 astronauts could be the first men to set foot on the earth's satellite.

MANISTIQUE

Crews Open Highways After Snow, Mishap

MANISTIQUE — U.S. 2 was reported open to one lane traffic shortly after 8 a.m. today after being plugged with snow during most of the night.

State Police said that several westbound vehicles, including a Greyhound bus, were stranded by heavy drifts near the Sunny Shores for several early morning hours.

A huge drift made the highway area impassible and city crews were not able to clear the road until after 3 a.m.

A two-truck accident by the Valley Nursery, three miles east of Manistique on U.S. 2 closed a section of the road until 7:50 a.m. today, State Police reported. A tank truck traveling east on U.S. 2 was unable to climb the hill over the railroad bridge and skidded sideways into the path of an approaching semi-trailer truck. No injuries were reported.

Cpl. Francis Malette said the eastbound lane of U.S. 2 had been cleared and was open for traffic. An attempt was being made this morning to pump the gas load from the disabled tank truck into another tanker so that the tank could be raised and the truck removed from the area.

U.S. 2 west of Manistique was opened to traffic shortly after 8 a.m. but termed "hazardous and not recommended for travel."

Matt Weber, Schoolcraft Road Commission head, said that the blowing and drifting snow was so intense during the night that no attempt was made to keep primary, local roads open, except on an emergency basis.

County crews were on call all night.

Weber also said that it was snowing and blowing very hard east of Manistique at 8:30 a.m. today.

City crews are busy trying to clear Manistique streets, according to City Manager Robert Noe. Not all streets are open, Noe added, and said a state of semi-emergency exists.

Motorists are being asked to park on one side of the street only and those clearing driveways will be ticketed if they push snow into the street.

No residential or rural delivery of mail was made in the Manistique area today, according to Postmaster John Kelly. Only downtown business establishments received mail deliveries.

Briefly Told

A mixed chorus group from the Midland Mennonite Church will present a music program at the Maple Grove Mennonite Church on Jan. 12 at 11 a.m. The public is cordially invited to attend the program.

Hot lunch menu for Central Fairview, Doyle and Hiawatha schools on Friday will include spaghetti with meat sauce, buttered green beans, homemade cake, orange juice and beverage.

Public Safety Fire Dept. was called to the James Brulla residence, 411 Center St., Tuesday at 3:20 p.m. Minor fire damage was reported to the garage walls resulting from a broken flume in the chimney.

Arthur P. Hyde of Saginaw was fined $10 and $10 costs when he appeared in District Court Tuesday on a charge of driving left of centerline. Hyde's auto was involved in a two-car collision on U.S. 2 Tuesday morning involving the Manistique Public Safety ambulance and another car driven by Herbert Zeal of Saginaw. Hyde, attempting to pass a snowplow and travelling west on U.S. 2, met the approaching Public Safety ambulance and went off the roadway to avoid hitting the ambulance. The ambulance also veered to avoid hitting the Hyde vehicle and struck a third auto, driven by Herbert Zeal of Saginaw, which was following the Hyde car. The ambulance was driven by Public Safety Officer Victor Schuetter and was towed from the scene of the mishap, state police said.

New Court Busy In First Week

Schoolcraft County's new District Court, currently in an organizational phase, is a busy place these days.

District Judge Charles Stark of Munising commutes between the District Benches in Manistique and Munising while Magistrate Howard Magoon and part-time clerk Mrs. Helen Davenport maintain the Magistrate's Court on a daily basis.

District Court is being held in the Circuit Court room of the Court House while Magistrate's Court is located in the former Justice of the Peace Court in Triangle Park.

Charges were dismissed against two men by Judge Stark this week in District Court. One dismissal involved a charge of obstructing traffic filed by Public Safety officers against Lloyd T. Osterhout of Rte. 1, Manistique.

A charge of improper parking on the roadway against Daniel J. Graphos, 215 Elm St., was also dismissed. The charge had been brought by Michigan State Police.

Revoke Licenses

Two men were found guilty of driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and both had their licenses suspended. Lowell Varvil, 811 Range St., was fined $40 and costs of $35 while David F. Pachta of St. Ignace was fined $50 and costs of $50. Varvil's charge originated with the Michigan State Police and Pachta's with the Public Safety Dept.

Paul D. Robinson, 17, of Manistique was fined $30 and costs of $40 plus 10 days in jail by Judge Stark on Jan. 7. If Robinson does not pay his fines within a 10-day period his jail sentence will be increased to 60 days. A stipulation was made that Robinson be released to attend school every day but must report to the sheriff after school. Robinson was charged with simple larceny, less than $50, committed in a local store.

Jon David Garden, Rte. 1, Manistique paid a fine of $15 and costs of $8 on a drunk and disorderly charge and $10 fine and $20 costs on a speeding charge. State police officers were the complainants.

David A. Repp, E. Lakeshore Dr., was sentenced to 20 days in jail and fined $10 and $30 costs on a drunk and disorderly charge. The jail sentence is retroactive to Jan. 4. If Repp's fines are not paid within the 20 days, his jail term will increase to 45 days confinement.

Appoint Counsel

Repp also appeared Tuesday in court with Robert Walters and Frank Faketty, both of Manistique, on the charge of wilfully resisting and assaulting a police officer. The trio requested a stay of arraignment until they could secure legal counsel. Repp requested a court appointed attorney and William F. Hood was named by Judge Stark.

Repp will appear for arraignment in District Court at 10:30 Friday morning. Walters and Faketty are presently free on $1,000 bond.

Noel Harbin, 119 Cedar St., paid a fine and costs of $10 for failure to yield the right-of-way; Dallas Dunning, Rte. 1, was fined $10 and $5 for operating a snowmachine on the highway; and Willard Carl Lange of Newberry paid $10 and $5 for speeding. These fines were paid on Jan. 8.

Stocks Move Upward Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved upward in early trading Thursday after three days of decline.

Gains outnumbered losses by more than two to one on the New York Stock Exchange, and the Dow-Jones Industrial Average moved up 5.90 to 927.15 after the first hour.

The movement followed Wednesday's pattern of recovery from an oversold condition. Most gains were fractional on the Big Board.

DuPont was a leader, up 1 3/4 at 159 3/4 and Allied Chemical was up 1/8 at 36 1/4.

Up fractionally were Bethlehem Steel, Consolidated Edison, Sears, and Litton.

Rails were up with Norfolk and Western gaining 1/2 to 105 1/2, and oils were mixed, with Standard Oil of California moving up fractionally while Standard Oil of New Jersey and Texaco dropped less than a point.

A block of 24,700 shares of Maxson Electronics sold at 33, unchanged, while a block of 40,000 shares of U. S. Freight sold off 1/4 at 46 1/4.

The market has been in a decline for the past month, with the last two days showing a diminishing downside.

Analysts have predicted a technical recovery following the losses sustained when an already declining market Tuesday was hit with a prime rate hike to a record 7 per cent by the nation's banks. This further indicated a developing crunch in credit.

Milliken Shows Sympathy To Aid

the recommended budget, you must provide the additional revenue."

And lest anyone regard the forthcoming spending proposals as strictly Romney's budget. He stressed "it is a budget which I will support, and which I will defend."

Pollution

Warning that "Michigan cannot poison its air and foul its water," Milliken vowed prompt implementation of the $335-million water bond issue approved by voters Nov. 5. "I will oppose any efforts to pork-barrel these funds or to dissipate their effectiveness by stretching the spending over too many years," he said.

Stressing at length that education is important, Milliken added: "We must develop a vastly improved state aid formula to help equalize educational opportunity, and we must do it as quickly and as effectively as possible."

He said the state must find a partial alternative to the property tax to finance schools, must spread the tax base to benefit poor school districts, and must permit school districts to levy other sorts of taxes.

Warns Rural Citizens

On another subject, Milliken pledged "to do all in my power to see that all our laws involving basic human rights, particularly in job opportunities, access to the advantages of modern life, and housing, will be strenuously implemented and enforced."

He also said his administration "will wage a ceaseless battle against lawlessness, whether organized or unorganized, whether by mob or mafia, whether exploitive or simply callous."

He warned that Michigan citizens in rural areas "cannot sit snugly by in tranquility while the cities sink in despair," and added:

"I have resolved to concentrate a major portion of my efforts as governor on the problems of urban Michigan. I will reorganize state government to provide constant, high-priority, on-the-scene attention to the urban centers."

Finally, Milliken promised to encourage "a Michigan dialogue—a process in which every public official, our strong and vital press, every person in Michigan with ideas, can participate."

"I propose to have an open administration," he said, "which will stimulate the widest possible discussion and consideration of public policy."

Ryan Elected House Speaker

LANSING (AP) — Majority House Democrats put their man in the speaker's chair Wednesday after locking horns with Republicans in the chamber's first power struggle of the year.

Elected speaker of the 109-member chamber was Rep. William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, a Marine Corps veteran and former United Auto Workers local president.

Ryan, 49, is a native of Morgantown, W. Va., and has been a House member since 1958.

Democrats, who took control of the House in the Nov. 5 election and now have a 57-52 edge, easily elected their other two leadership candidates—Rep. Stanley Davis of Grand Rapids as speaker pro tempore and Rep. Matthew McNeely of Detroit as associate speaker pro tempore.

Ryan's election came only after Democrats quelled a small mutiny in their own ranks and defeated the GOP 54-51 on a crucial rule change attempt.

The complex maneuvering resulted from an unspoken Republican threat to team up with dissident Democrats and prevent Ryan's election until he promised them strong representation on several important House Committees.

As many as five Democrats were reported willing to cooperate with the GOP. One was Rep. Joyce Symons of Allen Park, who sought a committee chairmanship for herself.

Viet Casualties At 11 Week Low

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. casualties in Vietnam last week were the lowest in 11 weeks, reflecting the continuing lull in the ground war. South Vietnamese and enemy casualties also were considerably less than the week before.

The U.S. Command announced today that 101 Americans were killed in action last week and 599 were wounded, the lowest American casualties since the week of Oct. 13-19, when 100 were killed and 589 were wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 150 government troops killed and 602 wounded, a sizable decrease from the 279 killed and 901 wounded the previous week. The two commands reported at least 1,846 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, compared with 2,135 the week before.

The report for the last week of 1968 brought the total American combat casualties since Jan. 1, 1961, to 30,644 killed, 192,926 wounded and 1,238 missing or captured; in those eight years, the U.S. Command said, at least 431,736 of the enemy have been killed.

In the seven and a half months after the preliminary peace talks opened in Paris on May 13, a total of 7,693 Americans, 9,020 South Vietnamese military personnel, and 83,180 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were reported killed.

Despite more than 100 allied sweeping operations under way throughout South Vietnam, only fleeting and scattered contact with Viet Cong and North Vietnamese forces was reported again today.

The President-elect, who planned to return to New York later tonight, was born in 1913 in a two-story frame house at Yorba Linda, Calif., near Los Angeles.

Minor Accidents Are Reported

Two persons were ticketed after minor traffic accidents Wednesday, State Police reported.

Olin Danhauser, 53, of Ortonville, received a summons for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after his semi-trailer tractor slid into the rear of a truck tractor driven by Charles Osmun of Swartz Creek on U. S. 2 in Ensign Township.

Troopers said Osmun had slowed for a grader plowing snow and Danhauser was unable to stop behind him.

Richard Stade, 36, of 1402 Montana Ave., Gladstone, received a summons for an expired operator's license after a minor accident on County Rd. 426 at County Rd. C-45. Officers said Stade attempted to turn his car onto C-45 and slid past the intersection, stopping in the road. His car was hit by a car driven by Thomas McGuigan, 613 N. 16th St., Escanaba, who was unable to stop because of the slippery road, officer said.

No injuries were reported in either accident.

Pistons Beaten; Bing Gets Hurt

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics beat the Detroit Pistons 113-104 Wednesday night in the Boston Garden but the Pistons lost more than the game.

Dave Bing, the team's leading scorer and the top scorer in the National Basketball Association last season, is out for a week with a leg injury suffered in the game. Bing was on crutches with a severe bruise to his right leg following a third period collision of several players.

Wes Unseld, meanwhile, pushed the Baltimore Bullets to a 108-107 victory over the San Diego Rockets, Philadelphia nipped Atlanta 112-111 and New York rolled past Milwaukee 115-101.

In the American Basketball Association, Kentucky downed Indiana 109-97, Minnesota edged Miami 128-124 and Los Angeles stopped Denver 117-112.

Tech Trounces Colorado, 10-2

HOUGHTON (AP) — Despite some superb saves by goalie Don Gayle in the first two periods Michigan Tech took advantage of Colorado College's poor defense to trounce the Tigers 10-2 in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game Wednesday night.

The Huskies led 8-2 after two periods against Gayle and then scored twice more against substitute Colorado goalie John Herbert.

Karl Karlander scored a three-goal hat trick for Michigan Tech, while Carl Ahlsten and Ed Shillington scored twice each for the winners. Singles goals came off the sticks of Terry McKnight, Al McLeod and Jim Kryway. Bob Collyard and Casey Ryan tallied for Colorado College.

The win upped Michigan Tech's overall record to 7-3-1 with a 2-1 league mark. Colorado College is now 5-6 overall and 0-5 in the WCHA.

Penn State's Paterno Spurns Steeler Offer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Penn State's young Joe Paterno, who spurned a half-million dollar coaching contract with the pros to stay on campus, acknowledged today he is a "corn-ball" and an "idealist."

"Some people may think I'm nuts for turning down such an offer," the slight, 42-year-old former Brown University quarterback said. "But I think there is more to life than money. I don't want to restrict myself to football."

Paterno, whose Nittany Lions now are unbeaten in 19 games, turned down Wednesday an offer from the Pittsburgh Steelers of the National Football League which reportedly would have given him $50,000 a year for 10 years.

"I can't say what the contract was—Pittsburgh will have to do that," he added. "It would have assured me a lifetime of financial security for my family. I can never make that kind of money in college coaching, but I put more value in other things."

These things, the young coach added, include cows, kids and a ride in the country on Sunday.

"I love campus life. I love the western Pennsylvania community where I live. I enjoy taking young players and watching them develop into men. I like the challenge of big-time college football."

Paterno said he resents the impression of some people that a college team to be big and successful must be crooked.

"I know from my experiences at Penn State that boys can be gentlemen and have humility on and off the field and still win," he continued. "Just because a team is good doesn't mean there are abuses, under-the-table pay-

Area Cagers Begin Big Weekend Slate

Holiday layoffs are over and all local and area high school basketball teams swing back into action in full force with a ten-game weekend slate on tap.

Highlighting the weekend action will be the Gladstone-Munising tussle for first place in the Great Lakes Conference standings Saturday at the Gladstone High School gymnasium which begins at 8 p. m.

The Mustangs lead the conference race with a 5-0 mark while the Braves are tied for second place with the Soo Blue Devils, each with a 3-1 record.

Gladstone has a 6-1 season record going into the game, including a 74-63 victory over the Escanaba Eskymos Tuesday night at Escanaba. The Braves have now won four straight following their only defeat of the season, an 82-75 loss to Munising in their first meeting of the year. Since then, the Mustangs have been upended by the Holy Name Crusaders, a team which Gladstone defeated in three overtimes, 67-65.

Steve Nelson, Gladstone's leading scorer and rebounder as a junior last season, started out slow this year but has come on as of late to move into second place in the conference scoring race with an average of 20.5 points per game.

Holy Name Home

Another conference clash will pit the Holy Name Crusaders, undefeated in the Great Northern Conference, against the Kingsford Flivvers in a Friday night contest at the Holy Name High School gym.

The Crusaders are 3-2 on the season, losing both games by a mere total of three points. Leading the Crusaders' offensive attack are seniors Al Grabowski and Terry Dufour. Grabowski is hitting just over 21 points per game with 108 points in the five Holy Name games. Dufour has been having trouble getting started, but has still managed to average 15.8 points per game in the early going.

Holy Name's rebounding and fast break game was rewarded with a blessing over the Holidays when sophomore Joe Harvey, out all season due to illness so far, returned to practice and will be ready to go in Friday's game. Harvey stands at 6 feet 4 inches and will be a valuable asset in the rebounding department which is already doing a fine job thanks to Dufour, Dan Young, Steve Fisher and Tom Creten.

Eskymos Travel

Escanaba, carrying a 4-2 record, swings back into action Friday night at Marinette against the Marines. Coach Bill Howes has been juggling his lineup in the Eskymos' six previous games in hopes of coming up with a winning combination and with the fine play of sophomore Tom Kangas and John Moberg, the Eskymos should be able to bounce back from their defeat Tuesday night.

Moberg led the Eskymos in scoring Tuesday night with 18 points, matching his highest total of the season but playing, by far, his finest game. Kangas scored 11 points against the Braves, somewhat below his season average, but he did manage to pull down 17 rebounds to lead the Eskymos in that department.

The Manistique Emeralds will be out to try and halt their four-game losing streak against Munising on Friday night in a Great Lakes Conference clash. The Emeralds hold a 1-6 mark this season but showed signs of improvement in their loss to Newberry last Friday night. Manistique is winless in conference play.

Other key conference battles will find the Perkins Yellowjackets at Rapid River for a Central League battle; Champion at Powers and National Mine at Hermansville in Skyline Conference duels; Bark River at Eben and Big Bay de Noc at Rock in Central League clashes and Chassell playing at Trienary in a non-conference tilt.

Grid Rulesmakers Expect To Keep Platoon Football

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Despite charges of strong-arm tactics by the powerful NCAA council and pressure from the top brass, college football rulesmakers are expected to beat down the new attempt to put in limited substitution, returning the game to the one-platoon system.

Before closing its annual convention Wednesday, the National Collegiate Athletic Association named a three-man committee to sit in with the 17-man committee which begins deliberations at Palm Springs next Monday on the knotty problem.

Coaches and others favorable to the more exciting two-platoon—or professional brand—of football insist that this action is like holding a hammer over the rules committee's head.

However, an informal poll of the committee indicates that sentiment is strong for keeping the present rule, which produced some of the most exciting scores and biggest crowds in history.

The three-man sit-in committee named by the council consists of A. D. Kirwan, acting president of the University of Kentucky; Bob Bronzan, director of athletics at San Jose State; and Garvin Beauchamp, dean of men at Abilene Christian College.

Many of the college administrators are pushing for a return to limited substitution, arguing that this is one means of cutting down spiraling costs now threatening to bankrupt college athletic programs.

The American Football Coaches Association Wednesday voted to appoint a blue ribbon panel to study spiraling costs in athletics. The coaches are out to prove that there's a lot of yard on the hog—but not from scholarships.

The scholarship problem brought an interesting sidelight to the convention when a measure was passed giving the individual institutions a stronger hand in taking away the grants-in-aid when player is guilty of manifest disobedience.

Some of the Negro members took this as a subtle slap at the black power groups and said it might be invoked just because a player wears an afro haircut or no haircut at all.

The NCAA insisted that the guilt would have to be deeper than that and would involve boycotts and overt acts of disruption, such as the San Jose State sitdown against Brigham Young during the football season.

Relations with the pros cooled further.

The incoming president, Harry M. Cross of the University of Washington, said he hoped that colleges would refrain from letting professional teams use their facilities lest the pros interfere with the college programs.

A resolution was passed forbidding colleges from competing in double-header programs with the pros.

The suggestion was made—though no order given—that Pittsburgh, Tulane and the University of Pennsylvania perhaps shouldn't lease their stadiums to pro teams.

At the same time, three Big Ten schools were known to be dickering with National Football League teams over use of their college stadium for some NFL games. The colleges were seeking it as a source of revenue.

Maynard, Sauer Reason For Jets' Big Season

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Don Maynard and George Sauer Jr., are a far cry from the usual conception of a big, rough, tough professional football player. Yet they are two of the big reasons why the New York Jets will be meeting the Baltimore Colts in Sunday's Super Bowl.

Both look more like successful young business executives, confident, fastidiously dressed, striding down Madison Avenue en route to the next financial account customer.

Personality-wise they are as different as two peas in a pod. Maynard, at 31 a veteran of 11 years in professional ball, is the prankster—ever ready with the quip, "An unusual kid," is the way coach Weeb Ewbank describes his pass catching ace.

Ewbank calls him the "human crab because he seems to be always finding fault in a joking manner." Then the roly-poly Jets coach added: "but he is a great athlete—one that doesn't smoke, never takes a drink and trains the year round even when teaching school during the off season."

Sauer, 24-year-old son of the Jets personnel director, is even more deceiving in picturing a pro football player. He wears horned-rimmed glasses beneath a head of heavy blond hair.

On the field, Sauer replaces his spectacles with contact lenses.

"The contacts have made a different player out of him," said Ewbank. "When he first joined the club we noticed he often dropped the ball catching it over one shoulder. We sent him to an eye specialist who recommended contact lenses."

Since then he has joined with Maynard in giving the Jets one of the most feared 1-2 punches. "I would describe George as a fast Ray Berry," said Ewbank, referring to the one-time great Baltimore end. "Berry was not fast but he ran great patterns. George is fast and also is a master at patterns."

Bay Norsemen Play Tonight

The Bay de Noc Community College Norsemen will play host to Suomi College tonight at 7:15 at the Escanaba Junior High School gymnasium.

Suomi will take a 5-5 record into the game while the Norsemen have recorded a 1-5 mark in their first intercollegiate basketball season.

Art VanDamme, former high school scoring ace at Perkins, and Larry Lippens, both fast break artists and capable of shooting from the outside, lead the Suomi team in scoring this season. VanDamme was an All-U. P. Class D selection last year.

Bay de Noc will be without the services of its leading scorer, Jim Boyle, who suffered torn ligaments during the game against the Czechoslovakian Nationals early in December. At the time of his injury, Boyle was the leading Norsemen scorer and rebounder with 66 points and 52 rebounds.

After six games, Len Wellington has taken over the scoring lead from Boyle, who has missed the last two games, with 81 points. Other top scorers for the Norsemen are Tom Boyle with 83 points, Doug Benson with 50 and Gene Folcik with 45.

Paper Has News Before Council

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Common Council is tired of having to read city news in its newspapers.

So the Council Wednesday adopted a resolution forcing all city departments to submit information to it before it goes to the news media.

The resolution apparently is a result of Council embarrassment over a Detroit News story that one of the many recommendations of a Model Cities proposal submitted to the council called for creating isolated districts with legalized prostitution.

Though this incident may have provided the impetus, councilmen have complained in years past that newspaper articles often give them their initial contact with a proposal.

Reporters were left to wonder how the Council will try to control news gathered at public commission meetings and in interviews.

Contest Papers Right To Records

MUSKEGON (AP) — Probate Court Judge Robert A. Cavanaugh of Muskegon has appealed a Dec. 26 State Court of Appeals ruling that upheld the right of newspapers to inspect Probate Court records.

Harold M. Street, Cavanaugh's attorney, said he has filed a motion to appeal with the Michigan Supreme Court.

Action against Judge Cavanaugh stemmed from a 1967 incident when he refused to grant permission to a Muskegon Chronicle reporter to examine the will of the late John C. Beukema. Booth Newspapers, on behalf of the Chronicle, filed the case against the judge.

Circuit Court Judge Albert J. Engel ruled in favor of the Muskegon paper and the court of appeals upheld the decision.

Man's Attitude Rates Over Looks In Hiring

NEW YORK (AP) — An ambitious and discriminating hip-type may stand a better chance of getting hired by American business than the clean-cut fellow who's willing to take any job at all.

"A poor attitude is responsible for more ejection letters than a sloppy appearance," a group of corporate recruiters agreed at a recent college career conference in New York.

"Can you tell a kid to shave? You bet you can," said a recruiter for a major tobacco company.

"A student who comes in without a shave, tieless and with unshined shoes doesn't

Poor Hitters May Be Helped

BOSTON (AP) — The careers of some great hitters could be lengthened while the automatic out spectacle of a Dean Chance or a Dick Ellsworth at the plate might be eliminated under some proposed new baseball rules which will be experimented with in American League spring training games this year.

The change and other experimental rules were given official sanction for spring training games Wednesday by Joe Cronin, President of the league.

In games played under the experimental rules, each team must designate one man either as a pinch hitting specialist, permitted to bat twice in the game, or as a permanent substitute batter every time the pitcher's turn comes up.

Thus with a pitcher like Chance (5-for-93 and a .054 batting average last year) on the mound, a manager could get rid of the automatic out by using his pinch hitter one way, while with a good hitting pitcher going he would probably turn to the specialist idea instead.

Under the latter system, the man for whom the specialist hit would stay in the game.

Cronin, who described the experimental rules as a "drastic departure" from the long-established traditions of baseball, said if they proved acceptable the earliest they might be used in regular play would be 1970.

Mansfield Against New Demo Advisory Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield says that while a Republican occupies the White House, Democrats in Congress should shape party policy and not an outside group of liberals.

Mansfield visibly shuddered when asked in an interview for an opinion on revival of the Democratic Advisory Council which spewed out party policy pronouncements during the GOP Eisenhower years.

The council, organized to emphasize a liberal viewpoint in party affairs, was continually at loggerheads with then Democratic Senate Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

Mansfield said the center of policy-making will shift from the White House to Congress when Nixon is inaugurated.

Kentucky Team Retains First

By The Associated Press

Kentucky Wesleyan, almost knocked off its perch atop The Associated Press' small-college basketball ratings, faces another difficult assignment this weekend when it takes on 10th-rated Gannon, Pa.

The Panthers from Owensboro, Ky., suffered their initial setback of the campaign when they bowed to Evansville 71-70 last week. The result helped runner-up Fairmont of West Virginia to move to within 11 points of the leaders in the latest vote by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters.

Kentucky Wesleyan, 8-1 through games of last Saturday, accumulated 234 points in the balloting to 223 for unbeaten Fairmont, which edged the Panthers in first-place votes, five to four.

Illinois State, tied for 19th with Cheyney, Pa., State, is the only new team in the second 10. South Dakota State is 11th. Then come Lamar Tech, Nevada Southern, Youngstown State, Wittenberg, Eastern Michigan and Southwest Missouri State in a 16th-place deadlock and Indiana, Pa., State.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Before I begin, let me assure you that you will all be home in plenty of time for the Super Bowl!"

Former Piston Helping Knicks

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Dave DeBusschere failed to lead the Detroit Pistons to a National Basketball Association championship as either a coach or a player. Yet, he might take the New York Knickerbockers to the title.

"He certainly has helped us," Knicks' Coach Red Holzman said Wednesday night after his team toppled the Milwaukee Bucks, 115-101. "He gives us a forward who can play defense and also get the rebounds."

DeBusschere was a basketball and baseball standout at the University of Detroit. After school, he combined a pro basketball career with the Pistons and a baseball career pitching for the Chicago White Sox.

When the two sports got to be too much, DeBusschere concentrated on basketball and was promptly named player-coach of the Pistons.

He resigned as coach several years ago and recently was traded to the Knicks for center Walt Bellamy and guard Howard Komives.

"He's made us tougher in the center and forward positions," Holzman said.

Since DeBusschere joined the Knicks, New York has won nine of its last 10 outings. Against Milwaukee, he scored only seven points, but grabbed three rebounds, handed out two assists and held Len Chappell to only 10 points.

Blacks Cripple Brandeis Univ.

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — Dissident Negro students crippled the Brandeis University communications system Wednesday in a nonviolent bid for virtual autonomy in Negro affairs on campus.

University President Morris B. Abram called the seizure of Ford Hall an affront to the university community. The faculty voted condemnation of the action and called on the approximately 70 Negroes to abandon their demonstration.

The students answered by barricading doors to the three-story red brick building. They said they had enough food stockpiled to last three days.

Wednesday night Abram entered Ford Hall for about 10 minutes to talk with the students.

In a statement following the brief meeting, Abram said he "had no intentions of negotiating the demands under the present circumstances."

Negro men blocked entrances to the building which houses the university switchboard, faculty offices and an auditorium. They also barred doors to an adjacent building containing laboratories and the university computer.

Abram said the last thing he wanted to do was to summon police.

Winter Events Named In Top 20

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Tourist Council reports that two of the state's featured winter events have been named among the top 20 travel events in the nation for the months of January and March 1969. Tip-Up Town, U.S.A., to be held at Houghton Lake Jan. 18-19—an ice-fishing event—was selected one of the top events for January.

The North American Snowmobile Championships at Munising Feb. 28-March 2 was selected a top event for March. The selections are made by the National Association of Travel Organizations.

Bush-Fires Rage Near Melbourne

MELBOURNE (AP) — Bush-fires swept townships on the outskirts of Melbourne Thursday and there were reports that at least 10 persons had been killed in the blazes which roared through the tinder-dry summer grass.

The farming township of Lara apparently was hardest hit, but downed communications lines made thorough assessment of the damage impossible. An Australian Broadcasting Commission reporter said he had counted eight bodies after flames raced through Lara, and a truck driver brought 11 injured to nearby Werrabee Hospital and said he had left one woman for dead.

A firefighter was reported killed at Ararat.

Suspected Killer Sued By Relative

PONTIAC (AP)—A Birmingham orthodontist awaiting trial for first degree murder in the shotgun slaying of his ex-wife and son was sued Tuesday for $700,000 by his stepdaughter and her husband.

Mrs. Elizabeth M. Mallek filed two suits for $200,000 for damages and "extreme mental anguish" suffered when his father-in-law, Dr. Daniel J. Boucher, 44, allegedly shot up his home after the double slaying.

Boucher has been held without bond in Oakland County Jail since the shootings last October. His trial is to begin Jan. 24.

The 21-year-old Monteith appeared in three National Hockey League games earlier this season with Detroit.

Mahovich, 22, the younger brother of Red Wing star Frank Mahovich, scored two goals and two assists in his 25 games with the Wings. He had been sent back to Fort Worth Dec. 3 but was recalled two weeks later.

Mantle Claims He Will Report

DALLAS (AP) — Mickey Mantle said Wednesday he will definitely report to spring training with the New York Yankees "but I don't know what will happen after that."

Mantle also indicated that he doubted he would accept a job in the Yankee front office after his playing days are over.

"When I do quit playing, the only place in baseball that I would think about working would be in this area," Mantle said. "I've been traveling all these years and I've had it. I want to stay home."
